

Bootleggers Restaurant opened in 1994 in the historic City Hall building, built in 1892 and later destroyed by fire in 1905, leaving only the outer walls standing.

Bootleggers offers casual, creative dining with an ambiance reminiscent of old San Francisco. Friendly, knowledgeable staff welcomes you with relaxed professional service.

Executive Chef and co-owner Ty Rowe, a graduate of the Culinary Institute of America in Hyde Park, N.Y., apprenticed nationally with the Marriot Hotel chain, later honing his cooking skills in Europe. As well as overseeing the award winning cuisine at Bootleggers, he can be seen at numerous regional cooking demonstrations and competitions. He has also been featured on numerous TV cooking shows. His style favors simple, fresh flavors prepared in many international cooking styles, using locally grown products to provide a seasonal menu, balanced with a blend of classical flavors and homestyle comfort food.

Bootleggers, a front runner in the use of locally sustainable products, continues to feature fresh local ingredients, USDA choice meats, and daily seafood specials grilled over wood burning grill.

Belgian Ales and locally produced wines are featured on their menu of more than 40 beers and 50 wines.
